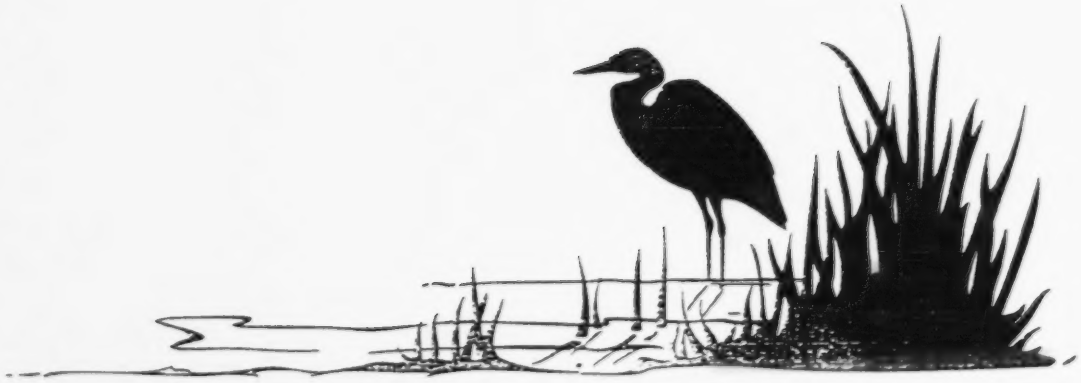
ENFORCEMENT REPORT

1999



Enforcement and Compliance Branch

PREFACE

The 1999 Enforcement Report itemizes resource and environmental law enforcement activity undertaken by Saskatchewan Environment and Resource Management. In addition, non-mandate enforcement activity undertaken by conservation officers is included. The report is a summary of enforcement activity reported to Enforcement and Compliance Branch as of December 31, 1999.

This report is intended to summarize prosecutions for offences committed during the calendar years 1995 through 1999. Statistical summaries are provided here as reported to the end of each calendar year. This allows a comparative analysis of yearly data.

Included in this report are activity summaries of specialized units within Enforcement and Compliance Branch, including Provincial Enforcement Centre, K-9, and Training Units. The report also includes significant enforcement occurrences, including high speed pursuits, assaults, use of force, controlled wildlife models and road side inspections.

Information contained in this report is intended for internal Department analysis, planning and co-ordinating of law enforcement activities, policies and procedures. For interpretation or further analysis of prosecutions detailed in this report contact the Director, Enforcement and Compliance Branch, Saskatchewan Environment and Resource Management, Prince Albert.

APPENDIX M: SUMMARY OF HIGH SPEED PURSUITS

1. Two officers were involved in a night hunting patrol. The aircraft advised them of a spotlight working on nearby private land. The suspect vehicle fled the scene as soon as the emergency lights were activated. The pursuit vehicle was approximately 25 meters behind the suspect vehicle and drove on to a nearby reserve. The officers fell behind as they did not know the trails. After approximately 1.4 km the suspect vehicle hit a dip in the road and was damaged to the point of not being operable. The officers assisted the subjects by transporting them to their residences.

2. A lone officer was traveling through a major Saskatchewan city at 0630h. He encountered a vehicle traveling very slowly in the passing lane of the city by-pass. The vehicle pulled into the driving lane just as the officer came up behind it. At almost the same time a citizen's vehicle attempted a pass on the left side. The suspect vehicle swerved to the left appearing to run the citizen off the road. The citizen than attempted to pass on the right and met with the same result. The officer engaged his emergency equipment in an attempt to stop the suspect vehicle. By this time the citizen had passed the suspect and was attempting to cut the suspect vehicle off and aid the officer in bringing it to a stop. The suspect avoided the citizen and sped off. The officer called Echo Charlie for assistance from the municipal police. The suspect vehicle turned off the by-pass and drove into the city. Speed on the by-pass reached approximately 160 km/h. Once in the main part of the city, the suspect seemed to only go fast enough to stay ahead of the officer. At this point the municipal police contacted Echo Charlie and advised the officer to abandon the pursuit. The officer abandoned the pursuit and carried on his regular duties. Although the officer was close enough to obtain the licence plate number, he did not as he was concentrating on the pursuit.

3. A lone officer was traveling along a two lane highway returning to his field office after a fisheries patrol. A vehicle made a right hand turn onto the highway just in front of the officer and pulled onto the right hand shoulder. The officer attempted to pass the vehicle it swerved into the left hand lane. The suspect vehicle then pulled back into the right hand lane and drove on the shoulder. The officer then noted a beer bottle being thrown out of the passenger window. The officer then engaged his emergency equipment as they traveled through a hamlet along the highway. The officer attempted to pull along side the suspect vehicle but decided not to due to road conditions. The officer followed the vehicle into a town and approached the vehicle when it stopped beside a store. The officer approached the driver and arrested her, holding her in the patrol vehicle until the local RCMP arrived.

APPENDIX N: SUMMARY OF ASSAULTS

1. Two officers were checking commercial fishermen on a northern lake. One fisherman was concerned about the commercial fishing opening date of a nearby lake. When told of the opening date, the fisherman disagreed and said he would set his nets the before and he would guard them with a shotgun. When told that the officers would remove any nets set early, the individual stated this would give him a reason to shoot one of the officers. He also stated that should they meet somewhere "one on one" he would beat the officer up. The subject was concerned that a native conservation officer should not be laying charges on other native people.

2. A lone officer was serving a summons to an individual for a relatively minor offence. The officer walked up to the door of the house and knocked a couple of times. The door was opened and he was told to come in. The subject was sitting at a table with three unknown males. They were all drinking beer. The subject told the officer that he was having a bad day, and did not want to deal with the officer at that time. The officer replied that it would not take very long and began to separate the summary offence ticket in preparation for serving it. The subject repeated that he did not want to deal with it, got out of his chair and began moving toward the officer. He then swore at the officer, told him to get out and began to close the door. He kicked the officer in the shin and pushed him outside the door. The officer threw the summons on the counter before being pushed out the door. As the officer walked back to his truck, the subject opened the door and threw the summons on the ground.

3. One officer was conducting a park enforcement patrol at night when he observed a vehicle traveling toward him in the campground. The officer motioned for the driver to stop. The subject vehicle slowed down and pulled to the right side of the road. Suddenly the vehicle turned toward the officer and sped up causing the officer to try to get out of the way. The officer was struck by the driver's side corner of the truck and was pushed into the trees. The officer yelled at the driver to stop and he did, several feet past the point of contact. The subject was ordered out of the vehicle and arrested. He was charged with driving under the influence of alcohol

4. Two officers were patrolling a known problem area when they saw the vehicle of a known offender. They watched the vehicle from a visible position. They noted a person sitting on the window sill on the passenger's side of the vehicle holding a gun which he was resting on the roof of the vehicle. When the subject noticed the officer's vehicle he slid back into the vehicle. A few seconds later the subject appeared to point his firearm out the window directly at the marked enforcement vehicle. The subject pointed his firearm at the officers for 20 to 30 seconds before returning the firearm to the vehicle.

   The officers drove into the field and eventually located the vehicle in a nearby farmyard. Two rifles were seized from the vehicle. The subject's wife and father were in the yard and were verbally abusive towards the officers. The subject drove into the yard nearly running over one of the officers with his vehicle. He exited his vehicle and ordered the officers off his property and ordered them to return the firearms. The officers later served the subject with an appearance notice on this matter.

5. Two officers were on foot patrol in a provincial park when they met two individuals carrying open beer in a public place. Subjects were requested to pour out beer and return to their campsite as it was after midnight. One subject complied but the other refused to return to the campsite. The other subject insisted on going to the beach. The officers informed the subject that the beach was closed and he was to return to his campsite. The subject refused again and became verbally abusive towards the officers. The subject was placed under arrest for being drunk in a public place. The subject offered resistance so the officers responded accordingly with an arm bar and wrist lock hold. The subject continued to resist and attempted to kick the officers. The subject was then handcuffed but continued to resist. Full time officers and RCMP officers were called into the park for back up. The subject was turned over to the RCMP for transport to cells.

6. Two officers were in their office when a local resident entered and began talking about the possibility of going fire fighting. After talking for about 25 minutes, the subject suddenly became very agitated and started yelling and swearing about the government. The subject then grabbed the arm/sleeve of one of the officers and began shaking and pulling at the officer. At this point the other officer jumped up from his desk and yelled at the subject to let go of the officer. The second officer took his O/C spray from its holster and advised the subject he would use it if he did not let go. The subject let go, but continued to verbally abuse the officers by yelling and swearing. At one point the subject took off his jacket and came around the counter wanting to fight the officers. The subject asked if the officers were going to shoot him. The officers replied that they did not want to fight or shoot anyone and one officer raised his O/C spray cannister. The subject saw the O/C spray and backed around to the other side of the counter and began to verbally threatened one of the officers. The other officer called the RCMP for back up. The subject continued to swear at the officers and began to walk out the door. At this time a local fire fighter arrived to see what the commotion was all about. The subject engaged the firefighter and challenged him to a fight outside. The subject walked outside and the firefighter closed and locked the door behind the subject. The RCMP spoke with the subject shortly thereafter. The subject is coded as violent and mentally unstable. He is prohibited from carrying a firearm within 3 miles of the local community.

7. An officer was conducting a park patrol around midnight. She detained a female subject for drinking alcohol in a public place. The female did not have any identification on her, so the officer took her back to group of males who had been sitting with her. No one in the group would identify her. One of the males in the group was noted to be holding a beer bottle. When the officer asked to see it, he hid it under his shirt and denied having it. The officer stepped closer to him and shone her flashlight over his shoulder looking down the front of his shirt, and instructed him to produce the bottle. He refused, stating he had no beer. He then swung his left arm backwards toward the officer's right leg. The officer stepped backwards and kicked his arm away. The kick brushed his arm and struck him lightly on the back. The officer went to her patrol vehicle with the female subject and called for assistance. The female subject was not able to identify the male subject who disappeared by the time back up arrived.

8. A lone officer was engaged in a park patrol when he noticed three people walking down a road in the campground talking loudly and swearing. The time was 1:45 am so the officer decided to speak with them. He drove to their location and noted one person carrying a clear plastic cup with a dark liquid in it. As he stopped the group he noticed that one other person was carrying a large plastic cup with a dark liquid in it. The person carrying the cup said it had coke in it. The officer asked to see the cup, but the subject refused, swearing at the officer. The officer exited his vehicle and asked again to see the cup. Once again the subject refused. The officer then grabbed the cup from the subject and determined that it had contained alcohol. The officer asked the subject for identification and told him he would be charged for having open alcohol in a public place. The subject said "No, you're not" and grabbed the left side of the officer's duty belt. He then yelled "Hey, this guy doesn't have a gun". The officer separated himself from the subject and advised him he would be arrested for assaulting an officer. The subject offered verbal resistance and would not comply to the officer's commands to turn around. As the officer attempted to handcuff the subject, he took a swing at the officer, missing him. The officer continued with his verbal commands to stop resisting and attempted to handcuff the subject. The subject then grabbed the officer and they began wrestling on the ground. At this point the other two subjects tried to stop the first subject from assaulting the officer. The subject would not listen and continued to assault the officer. The subject ended up on his back and got one leg around the officer's neck while kicking him with the other. The officer pulled out his O/C spray, and as the subject rolled over, the officer sprayed him in the face. The subject then rolled onto the officer's arm, trapping it on the ground, and took the O/C spray away. The subject then jumped on the officer's back and began spraying the officer in the face stating "You spray me, I'll spray you" and "I'm gonna fucking kill you. You're dead" The officer twisted away from the subject and retreated to his patrol vehicle to call for back up. The officer then backed off approximately 100 yards and observed the subjects as they walked back to their campsite. Prior to back up arriving, the other two subjects spoke with the officer and identified themselves and the other subject. When back up arrived, the subject had disappeared, but the other two were told to have him turn himself in to the RCMP the next day. At approximately 5:00 pm the next day the subject turned himself in to the local RCMP office.

9. Two officers were working park enforcement when they came across two people walking through the park, one carrying open alcohol. The officers asked the subject to dump his beer which he did. The officers then asked the two to return to their campsite as it was after midnight. The subject objected loudly and stated he was going to the beach. He became more belligerent and reused to comply with the officers' orders. The officers advised the subject he was being arrested for being drunk in a public place and laid hands on him. The subject resisted and attempted to kick at the officers. The officers restrained him, placed handcuffs on him and requested assistance from conservation officers and RCMP. The subject was turned over to RCMP when they arrived on scene.

APPENDIX O: SUMMARY OF USE OF FORCE

1. A lone officer was engaged in a park patrol when he noticed three people walking down a road in the campground talking loudly and swearing. The time was 1:45 am so the officer decided to speak with them. He drove to their location and noted one person carrying a clear plastic cup with a dark liquid in it. As he stopped the group he noticed that one other person was carrying a large plastic cup with a dark liquid in it. The person carrying the cup said it had coke in it. The officer asked to see the cup, but the subject refused, swearing at the officer. The officer exited his vehicle and asked again to see the cup. Once again the subject refused. The officer then grabbed the cup from the subject and determined that it had contained alcohol. The officer asked the subject for identification and told him he would be charged for having open alcohol in a public place. The subject said "No, you're not" and grabbed the left side of the officer's duty belt. He then yelled "Hey, this guy doesn't have a gun". The officer separated himself from the subject and advised him he would be arrested for assaulting an officer. The subject offered verbal resistance and would not comply to the officer's commands to turn around. As the officer attempted to handcuff the subject, he took a swing at the officer, missing him. The officer continued with his verbal commands to stop resisting and attempted to handcuff the subject. The subject then grabbed the officer and they began wrestling on the ground. At this point the other two subjects tried to stop the first subject from assaulting the officer. The subject would not listen and continued to assault the officer. The subject ended up on his back and got one leg around the officer's neck while kicking him with the other. The officer pulled out his O/C spray, and as the subject rolled over, the officer sprayed him in the face. The subject then rolled onto the officer's arm, trapping it on the ground, and took the O/C spray away. The subject then jumped on the officer's back and began spraying the officer in the face stating "You spray me, I'll spray you" and "I'm gonna fucking kill you. You're dead" The officer twisted away from the subject and retreated to his patrol vehicle to call for back up. The officer then backed off approximately 100 yards and observed the subjects as they walked back to their campsite. Prior to back up arriving, the other two subjects spoke with the officer and identified themselves and the other subject. When back up arrived, the subject had disappeared, but the other two were told to have him turn himself in to the RCMP the next day. At approximately 5:00 pm the next day the subject turned himself in to the local RCMP office.

2. Two officers were working park enforcement when they came across two people walking through the park, one carrying open alcohol. The officers asked the subject to dump his beer which he did. The officers then asked the two to return to their campsite as it was after midnight. The subject objected loudly and stated he was going to the beach. He became more belligerent and reused to comply with the officers' orders. The officers advised the subject he was being arrested for being drunk in a public place and laid hands on him. The subject resisted and attempted to kick at the officers. The officers restrained him, placed handcuffs on him and requested assistance from conservation officers and RCMP. The subject was turned over to RCMP when they arrived on scene.

3. Two officers were conducting a park enforcement patrol at 2:20 am when they were called to a site where an argument was taking place. They found the subject who was heavily intoxicated and placed him under arrest for being intoxicated in a public place. The subject was cooperative and was turned over to the RCMP shortly thereafter.

4. A second subject was arrested in the same incident as in "4" above.

5. Two officers were conducting a park enforcement patrol when they noticed a campsite with approximately 10 young people drinking alcohol in it. One of the officers noticed the subject hiding behind a tent in the site. The officer illuminated the subject and saw a beer in his hand. The officer directed the subject to come out from behind the tent. The subject decided to flee after being called out twice. The officer gave chase on foot and noted where the subject tossed his beer bottle into the bushes. The subject continued to run away, but soon after lost his footing and fell to the ground. The officer immediately arrested the subject and ordered him to stop resisting. By this time the second officer had arrived on scene and assisted the first officer in handcuffing the subject. The subject ran because he "didn't want to get a ticket".

6. An officer was asked by the RCMP to assist them in locating a person involved in an assault in a northern village. The officer, with his K9 partner assisted the RCMP and tracked the person to a nearby creek where he had submerged himself. The subject gave himself up when he learned the K9 unit was arriving.

7. Two park enforcement officers were patrolling a busy park at 2:20 am when they received a call of people driving around one of the campgrounds squealing tires and yelling. They arrived on site to find that the offending vehicle had left the area. The officers then found the vehicle a little while later and spoke with the occupants and charged three of them with having open alcohol in a vehicle. At 4:00 the same morning the officers were in the campsite again when they saw one of the former occupants of the vehicle walking down the road. They called out to him and he ran into the bush. A foot chase ensued and the officers were able to catch the subject and after a short wrestling match handcuffed him. At that point an occupant of the campground ran up to the officers with an axe in his hand. He was directed to put the axe down and explain what was going on. He explained that the subject and the other occupants of the vehicle had been in the campground after the officers had dealt with them the first time. They had been driving around yelling and taunting campers. The subjects noticed the out of province plates on the camper's vehicle and had picked him out. They stopped their vehicle and threatened physical harm to the camper and his girlfriend. The officers placed the subject in the patrol vehicle and transported him to the local RCMP office for further investigation

8. An officer was called to investigate illegal hunting during daylight hours. The officer drove to the area in question and observed evidence of illegal hunting. The officer found one person hunting and asked the complainant by cell phone if any other people were around. He was told that there was another person down by the river bank. The second person had a high powered rifle. The complainant directed the officer to the second person's location, but the officer could not find him. The officer then gave verbal commands five times to the person to show himself. The person did not show, so the complainant directed the officer in closer to where the subject was hiding. At this point the officer drew his pistol to the low ready position. The officer continued in the subjects direction coming to within ten meters of him. At this point the subject stood up and showed himself. The officer holstered his pistol and investigated further.

9. An officer was conducting park enforcement alone when she noticed a female person walking along the beach carrying a beer. The officer went over to the person and asked for information. The female attempted to flee, but the officer grabbed her and she became cooperative. The officer escorted the subject to a small group of people sitting on the beach. As the officer arrived at where the group was sitting, she noticed that one of the males in the group was holding a beer bottle under his shirt. The officer told the male subject to show the beer to her. The male subject refused and took a swing at the officer. The officer was able to avoid the strike by deflecting the blow with her leg. The officer returned to her patrol vehicle with the female subject and called for backup. By the time back up had arrived, the group had left the beach and the male subject was gone.
